PROJECT EXPERIENCE

INTERNATIONAL DRIVE CORRIDOR

Orange County, Florida (completed)

Charlier Associates prepared plans for a multimodal system serving a major tourist corridor in Orange County, Florida. International Drive is a tourist corridor with one of the nation's largest concentration of hotel rooms, theme parks, restaurants and shopping. CAI guided its clients (a consortium of public agencies and private companies) through a corridor planning process that enabled them to agree on an innovative plan for transit service coupled with comprehensive pedestrian system improvement. Successful start-up of the transit system component of the project occurred in July 1994. CAI coordinated formation of a new transit district to fund and manage the "I-Ride" service, and guided the new transit district through transit system start-up.
